I. INTRODUCTION TO FORMAT GUIDELINES

The Graduate School accepts electronic theses, reports, dissertations and treatises (henceforth called ETDs) in pdf format only. The pdf file of your ETD must be uploaded directly to the Texas Digital Library (TDL) at https://utexas-etd.tdl.org/. If you do not receive a preliminary format check, one will be performed at the time that you submit your final paperwork to the Graduate School. We recommend you request a format check by the Graduate School Degree Evaluators in Main Building, Room 101, prior to uploading your ETD.

Templates to assist you in formatting your ETD in MS Word for Windows and Mac OS are available at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/theses-and-dissertations/digital-submission-requirement>.

Graduate School Thesis and Dissertation Support Specialist Bob Penman is available to assist students who encounter formatting problems or who require assistance using the templates. Bob can be reached at bpenman@austin.utexas.edu or at (512) 475-9365.

Additional information on preparing ETDs is available at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/theses-and-dissertations/digital-submission-requirement>

In addition to uploading the pdf version of your ETD to the Texas Digital Library, all students must submit paper copies of the Signature Page (with all signatures of the supervising committee), proof of completion of the Copyright tutorial, the Statement of Research with Human Participants, and the Statement of Research in Restricted Regions to the Graduate School in Main 101 on or before the published submission deadline. These last two forms are required of all students whether or not the student used human participants and/or traveled to restricted regions.

NOTE: Committee signatures are not included on the signature page contained within the pdf file that is uploaded to the Texas Digital Library. Committee signatures are required on the loose signature page that is submitted to the Graduate School.

II. YOUR OFFICIAL/PREFERRED NAME AT THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS

All students must represent their full name as it is officially recorded by the Office of the Registrar at The University of Texas at Austin, unless the student has officially registered a preferred name with the Gender and Sexuality Center. This official name or registered preferred name must be used anywhere your name appears in your ETD. If you have any questions about your officially recorded name or registered preferred name you should contact the Student Records section of the Office of the Registrar.

If you wish to change your name (for example, to add a middle name or married name), you will need to contact the Student Records section of the Office of the Registrar in MAI 1.

When you upload your ETD to TDL, your middle name will be truncated to a middle initial. However, when your ETD is published, it will be published under your name as officially recorded by the Registrar's Office or under your preferred name as registered with the Gender and Sexuality Center.

III. ARRANGEMENT OF ETD

1. Copyright Page (Sample A) Include this page in the pre-text page count, but do not place a page number on it.
2. Signature Page (Samples B & C) Include this page in the pre-text page count, but do not place a page number on it.
3. Title Page (Sample D) Include this page in the pre-text page count, but do not place a page number on it.
4. Dedication and/or Epigraph. Include this page in the pre-text page count, but do not place a page number on it.
5. Acknowledgments and/or Preface. Begin placing pre-text lowercase Roman numerals at the bottom of this page, counting all preceding pre-text material except for the fly page. Page numbers are centered one inch from the bottom of the page.
6. Abstract (Sample E) Begin or continue pre-text page numbering with lowercase Roman numerals.
7. Table of Contents. Continue pre-text page numbering with lowercase Roman numerals.
8. List of Tables. Continue pre-text page numbering with lowercase Roman numerals.
9. List of Figures. Continue pre-text page numbering with lowercase Roman numerals.
10. List of Illustrations/Maps/Slides. Continue pre-text page numbering with lowercase Roman numerals.
11. Text. All pages from the first page of text through the Vita are numbered consecutively in Arabic numerals, beginning with Arabic numeral "1" on the first page of the text.
12. Appendix. Continue page numbering with Arabic numerals.
13. Glossary. May, instead, be placed after the Table of Contents in the area with the Lists of Tables, List of Figures, etc. Continue page numbering with Arabic numerals (or Roman if included behind Table of Contents).

14. Bibliography. Other possible titles are “References” or “Works Cited.” Continue page numbering with Arabic numerals. The bibliography is the last page of the thesis or report and the last page listed on the Table of Contents if the author chooses not to include a Vita page.

IV. PAGE FORMAT AND LAYOUT

a. Font

Your ETD must be correct in spelling and punctuation and presented in a consistent, structured format. A single, legible font must be used throughout, the only exceptions being in tables, figures, graphs, appendices, and supplemental files. The font size should be sufficient for the average person to read the document on a computer monitor without difficulty (12-pt is recommended.) Headings may be bolded and normally not more than 2 points larger than the rest of the text. Accuracy and consistency in presentation and form make your ETD a usable research tool for other readers.

b. Margins

Recommended margins for your ETD are approximately 1 inch. These margins should be consistent throughout the document, including pages in the appendix. All page numbers should be placed at the bottom center of the page.

c. Spacing and Page Arrangement

Your ETD must be double-spaced or 1.5-spaced; however, single spacing may be used in the Table of Contents, List of Tables, footnotes, endnotes, charts, graphs, figures, tables, captions, glossary, appendices, and bibliography. Paragraph indentions may be five to ten spaces.

Prose quotations over four lines long should be in block quote, double or single-spaced, and indented on the left. Do not use quotation marks in the block quote except when indicating quotations within the block quote.

Each new chapter or major section (i.e., Chapter 1, Chapter 2, Appendix, Bibliography, Vita) must begin on a new page.

d. Numbering of Pages

Beginning with the first page of the Acknowledgments or Preface, if used, all preliminary pages preceding the actual text must be numbered in lowercase Roman numerals; e.g., iii, iv, v, etc. If there are no Acknowledgments or Preface pages, the first page with a page number will be the Abstract page. These numerals must be centered under the text with at least one inch of space between the number and the bottom of the page. Do not number the copyright page, signature page, title page, or dedication, but do include each of them in the pre-text page count.

e. Tables and Illustrations

Pages carrying illustrative material must be given page numbers appropriate to their place in the document. Illustrative material should not be inserted after the document has been numbered and given page numbers such as "10a."

All tables, figures, illustrations, and other types of examples included and referenced in the text of the dissertation should be numbered for identification. There should be no duplication of these numbers; i.e., no two tables should be assigned the same number. Tables and Figures may be numbered in one of two ways: consecutively throughout the document (Table 1 – Table x), or double-numbered so that the illustrations' numbers reflect their locations in the document (Figure 9.3 is the third figure in Chapter 9, or Figure A2 is the second figure in Appendix A.) Do not mix these two types of numbering schemes within your ETD.

Captions and legends must be placed on the same page with the figure, graph, table or illustration they describe. In addition, the captions should be consistently placed either all above or all below the tables and figures throughout the document. In order to fit both figure and caption on the same page, captions may be single-spaced, margins may be decreased to one inch, and figures may be reduced in size to fit.

If there is no way to fit the table or figure and its caption onto a single page, you may put an identifying caption on the same page as the figure or table (i.e., Figure X), then on the following page, place the full caption by itself. Your text will then continue on the following page.

When a table or figure cannot fit entirely on a single page, each page of the table or figure must be identified with a caption. You should place the primary caption on the first page of the table or figure, then on all subsequent pages, a caption that says Table (or Figure) x, cont. Figures, captions, and page numbers must be easily readable when the electronic document is viewed at 100 percent.

f. Oversize Pages or Plates

Plates, graphs, or charts that are oversized (more than 11x14 inches) should be uploaded to the Texas Digital Library as Supplemental Files.

g. Copies

All students at The University of Texas at Austin are required to upload a pdf file of their ETD to the Texas Digital Library (TDL) submission site. The ETD serves as the University's archival copy. As an extra measure of security, students are strongly encouraged to keep a copy of their approved ETD and to provide an additional copy to their supervisor or department/program library, if applicable. By keeping an electronic backup on hand, students can easily provide scholars with a copy of their ETD during the time between submission and publication, if necessary. The Graduate School will not accept a paper copy of the ETD, although the student's graduate department or program may require one.

a. Signature page

Committee members' names must be typed under the signature lines on this page. While educational or professional titles (Ph.D. or Dr.) are not included on the signature lines for committee members, the titles indicating committee supervisory status ("Supervisor" or "Co-supervisor") must follow the names of committee members who have been officially designated in these roles. If you have any questions about this, please see a Degree Evaluator in the Graduate School.

The signature page in the pdf file that is uploaded for archiving and publication MUST NOT contain committee signatures.

The signatures of all your committee members are required on the signature page that is submitted to the Graduate School. This is true whether or not your committee members were physically present at the final defense. Your supervisor must sign on the top line and if you have a co-supervisor, they must sign the second line. Signatures should all be on a single signature page. Scanned or electronic signatures will be accepted as long as they are legible and dark enough to be imaged. Typed names as a signature are not allowed. Electronic and digitally authorized signatures may be accepted in any font format so long as they include the insignia or logo of the e-signature software used showing authorization. Examples below:

DocuSign:

Adobe Acrobat:

name here
DN: your distinguished name here
Reason: your signing reason here
Location: your signing location here
Date: 2010.03.17 17:42:22 -07'00'

The printed signature page with the committee signatures must be submitted to the Graduate School along with the other required paperwork listed in the Graduate School Checklists at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/graduation/deadlines-and-submission-instructions> by the submission deadline.

We recommend doctoral students bring extra copies of their signature page to their final oral defense if they wish to keep a signed copy for their own purposes. Only one signed copy is submitted to the Graduate School. In rare instances, we will accept signatures on more than one page when there are extenuating circumstances (such as when a committee member is out of the country and cannot electronically sign the signature page).

Please note that extensions will not be granted because a committee member was not available to sign your signature page. If you have committee members who are traveling or who do not live in Austin, take this into account. Signatures may be scanned or electronic, but must be legible and sufficiently dark to be imaged.

b. Abstracts

The abstract is a concise statement of the nature and content of your ETD, indicating its significance as a piece of research. It should be continuous prose, not disconnected notes or an outline; and it should not exceed 350 words. It should be 1.5 or double spaced, not single spaced. The title on the abstract must match exactly the title of the finished ETD.

c. Table of Contents

While there are a variety of acceptable ways to format the Table of Contents for your ETD, the Table of Contents must conform to margin requirements. The Table of Contents is placed in the document immediately before any pretext lists of tables, figures, illustrations, etc. These pretext lists, if present, will be the first item noted on the Table of Contents. If Lists of tables, figures and/or illustrations are included, each must begin on a separate page.

The Table of Contents must include the major section headings for Text and Bibliography and their respective page numbers. All chapter titles and subheadings listed on the Table of Contents must exactly match the headings as presented in the text. For example, a chapter labeled “Chapter 3” in the Table of Contents should not appear as “Chapter III” within the text.

Major sections and chapters within the document are listed on the Table of Contents with left-justified headings (not indented.) Each of these major sections should begin on a new page within the text. Subheadings, which do not need to begin on new pages within the text, must be indented under the appropriate major section heading on the Table of Contents. The page numbers for all sections listed on the Table of Contents are right-justified and preceded by a dot leader.

Table of Contents entries are generally double-spaced. However, chapter titles and subheadings, when more than one line long, should be indented at the second line and single-spaced. For example:

Chapter One: Title.....	1
Chapter Two: Title.....	23
Subheading Title.....	24
Subheading Title Extending Over One Or More Lines, at the Author’s Discretion.....	38

Master’s students may have a minimal Table of Contents, consisting only of the sections Text and Bibliography, with their respective page numbers, if the text has no divisible chapters or major sections.

d. Footnotes and Bibliography

Every ETD must include a comprehensive reference, or bibliography, section, even when chapter end notes or chapter references have been used. This section may be called “Bibliography,” “References,” or “Works (or Sources) Cited.” The bibliography is the last required section of the ETD and the last section heading listed on the Table of Contents unless an optional Vita page is included. When a Vita page is included, the bibliography immediately precedes the Vita at the end of the document. The bibliography may be deleted only in ETDs that are wholly original, such as novels or musical compositions.

The bibliography must indicate materials actually used, including the edition number when later than the first, so that the accuracy of quotations and citations may be readily verified. Footnote citations and references should be sufficiently exact to enable the reader to find the source with ease.

Any standardized form for footnotes and bibliography is acceptable if it is used consistently and has been approved by your supervisor. Students should consult their supervisor on questions of form. Several useful manuals for learning more about footnote/bibliography format include the W.G. Campbell, Form and Style in Thesis Writing, A Manual of Style, The University of Chicago Press; K.L. Turabian, A Manual for Writers of Term Papers, Theses, and Dissertations; Horn and Zivley, Helps in Writing Your Thesis.

VI. PUBLICATION AND COPYRIGHT INFORMATION

a. Publication of ETDs

The University of Texas at Austin requires that all ETDs be published as a part of each student's graduation. Currently, electronic copies of all ETDs are published open access and are globally available through the Texas Digital Library (TDL). Primary publishing and archiving are done electronically. The submission site for publication is provided on the Graduate School web site at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/theses-and-dissertations/digital-submission-requirement>

b. Delay of Publication (embargo)

The Graduate Dean will consider requests to delay publication for a period of seven years in order to protect patent or other rights. The Request to Delay Publication form is available on the Graduate School website, and should be submitted to the Graduate School along with final paperwork. Please note that publication of the ETD cannot be withheld unless the Graduate School receives the embargo request, which includes the signature of the dissertation supervisor.

c. Copyright Registration

Basic information regarding copyrights and copyright registration is available at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/theses-and-dissertations/doctoral-candidacy/copyright-tutorial>. Students who wish to officially register their copyright may do so by obtaining and registering the necessary forms with the U.S. Copyright Office. The address is Library of Congress, Copyright Office, Washington, D.C., 20599, <http://www.loc.gov/teachers/copyrightmystery/text/steps/>. Students are strongly encouraged to include a copyright legend in their dissertations even if they choose not to officially register their copyright (See Sample A.)

d. Using Materials Copyrighted by Others

Students must certify that any copyrighted material used in their ETD beyond brief excerpts, is being used with the written permission of the copyright owner and that the student will hold harmless The Texas Digital Library and The University of Texas at Austin from any damages which may arise from copyright violations. The copyright disclaimer and certification are completed as a part of the student's electronic submission to The Texas Digital Library. Additional information about the copyright law is available at <https://gradschool.utexas.edu/academics/theses-and-dissertations/doctoral-candidacy/copyright-tutorial>

e. Using Your Previous Publications in your ETD

Students may include articles they have previously published in their ETD. The format of the dissertation today ranges from the traditional "book" authored by a single student to a series of unrelated papers and/or journal articles, with single authorship or with multiple authorship. Graduate School policy recognizes that approaches to the dissertation vary across disciplines, and specifies only that the format chosen for students of a doctoral program be consistent with practices of similar programs in AAU institutions. Dissertations containing one or more papers or articles must include brief introductions and conclusions that put the work in context and an acknowledgement of any previous publication of each paper in another dissertation or other venue. In the case of multi-authored papers a statement must be included explaining the contribution of the dissertator to each paper. The contribution statement might include, for example, information about the dissertator's contribution to designing research, performing research, contributing new reagents or analytic tools, analyzing data, writing the dissertation or other area-specific classification of research activities. When papers or articles that have been previously published are included the dissertation must include permission(s) of the copyright holder(s) for reproduction in the dissertation. The supervisor and dissertation committee will review the stated contributions and must be satisfied that the dissertator's collective contribution to the multiple-authored papers or articles is sufficient to represent a dissertation

VITA

Elizabeth Marie Smith was born in Dallas, Texas. After completing her work at Lamar High School, Houston, Texas, in 2006, she entered Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos, Texas. During the summers of 2008 and 2009 she attended Sarah Lawrence College in Bronxville, New York. She received the degree of Bachelor of Science from Sarah Lawrence College in May 2010. During the following years, she was employed as a biology teacher at Austin High School. In September, 2012, she entered the Graduate School at the University of Texas at Austin.

_____ Do Not Include Information Below This Line on the Actual Vita _____

The Vita is a brief biographical sketch of the writer that provides information for future readers. The Vita page is optional and most often includes the author's full name, a contact method (we recommend using an email address where he or she may be reached, and the name of the typist. Because your ETD will be available electronically, be aware that certain personal information could be used to steal your identity. For this reason, you are advised not to include your date of birth, physical address, parents' names, or children's names.
